

2023 has been a tremendous year of intense implementation of numerous activities with and for our beneficiaries.

Here is a sneak peek into what we have been working on!

- Our Implementation of the TBImpactGH

Despite the strides made in combating Tuberculosis (TB) in Ghana, TB treatment and care in Ghana has faced many challenges regarding clients' access to treatment, high stigma, and discrimination in health facilities and communities.

HFFG in partnership with funding support from STOP TB Partnership Geneva is implementing the Challenge Facility for Civil Society Round 11 project titled, Strengthening Community Systems to Scale-up Community-led Response Interventions for TB Control.

The project is aimed at reducing TB stigma, gender-based violence, and human rights abuse using innovative and evidence-based community-led interventions in the following high-burden districts.

- HFFG-UNFPA Out-of-School Reproductive Health Education Program

The Out of School Sexual Reproductive Health Education (OOS-RHE) program funded by the United Nations Population Fund Ghana seeks to empower young health advocates and Young Persons in Detention (YPiD) with quality and adequate information, attitude, and skills on Sexual Reproductive Health and Rights to facilitate the process of making healthy decisions and to communicate their choices. HFFG has been implementing this program for the past 4-years in Greater Accra, Ashanti & the Northern Region.

- The Power of Entrepreneurial Skills for Young People

As a community-based organization, we understand that education is not enough to sustain the well-being of our community members, that is why in collaboration with UNFPA Ghana, we trained young people from the Out of School Project in various skills like bakery, wig-making, soap-making and fashion-designing. These skills were taught to enable these young people to sustain themselves and their families financially.

- Strengthening Community Systems to Scale-Up Community-led Response Intervention to End Neglected Tropical Diseases

Hope for Future Generations and its Implementing Partner Rural Watch, with technical support from the Ghana Health Service, are implementing the Strengthening Community Systems to Scale-Up

Community-led Response Intervention to End Neglected Tropical Diseases in ten (10) districts in the Eastern Region of Ghana from February 2023 to January 2025.

Intending to eradicate and eliminate skin NTDs and improve the lives and wellbeing of these communities, read more here on what we have achieved.
